Introduction:

Every school should have a Whistleblowing Policy that protects staff members who report colleagues they believe are doing something wrong or illegal, or who are neglecting their duties. This policy is a key part of 'Keeping Children Safe in Education' and should be considered in conjunction with our Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy and other relevant safeguarding policies e.g. Confidentiality, Health and Safety and Code of Conduct.

The MAT board are responsible for agreeing the schools' Whistleblowing Policy. Keeping Children Safe in Education (2021) Part 1 reinforces this, and Working Together to Safeguard Children (2018) Chapter 2, says that 'organisations should have in place arrangements that reflect the importance of safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children, including': 'clear whistleblowing procedures, which reflect the principles in Sir Robert Francis's Freedom to Speak Up review'. (www.freedomtospeakup.org.uk)

Purpose:

Employees are often the first to realise that there may be evidence of malpractice within the school or trust. However, they may not express their concerns because they feel that speaking up would be disloyal to their colleagues or the school. They may also fear harassment or victimisation.

In line with our trusts' commitment to high standards of openness, integrity and accountability, the trust, expects employees who have a reasonable belief that malpractice is taking place within a school to come forward and voice those concerns internally. This may be an awareness of suspected irregularity, wrong doing or a failure of standards. This policy provides the means for employees to make such disclosures.

It is in the interests of all parties that disclosures are dealt with properly, quickly and discreetly. The overriding consideration for the Trust, the school and the employee is that it would be in the public interest for any malpractice found to be corrected and, where appropriate, sanctions applied.

The policy provides employees with a procedure to make disclosures of irregularity or wrongdoing without fear of adverse treatment as a result. The Trust will not tolerate any harassment or victimisation of employees making disclosures (including informal pressures) and will take action to protect employees when they make a disclosure in good faith.

The policy addresses major concerns that fall outside the scope of other procedures and where the interests of others or of the School, or Trust are at risk. It has been developed within the following legislative and policy framework:

It takes into account the requirements of the Public Interest Disclosure Act 1998.

It is complementary to the Trust's Code of Conduct which makes clear the standards of propriety and good practice expected of employees.

It is complementary to the Trust's Discipline, Grievance and Harassment Procedures. Together they form a framework which allows employees to be disciplined, to seek personal redress, to raise personal complaint and to disclose malpractice where appropriate.

The policy is in addition to the Trust's complaints procedures and other reporting procedures, for example child protection procedures.

Scope:

This code applies to all Trust staff*. It is also applicable to:

- Contractors working for the Trust on school premises, for example, agency staff, builders, drivers.
- Suppliers and those providing services under a contract with the School in their own premises.

Staff - for the purposes of this document staff refers to all those involved with the school or trust on a paid or unpaid basis including volunteers, governors, supply staff, non-teaching staff, students*

Context:

Whistleblowing is the term used when a member of staff reports suspected 'wrong doing' at work. 'Wrong doing' covered by this policy includes:

- Causing a risk/ danger to children, young people and vulnerable adults
- Damage to staff, the public or the environment
- A criminal offence
- Unlawful conduct
- Financial malpractice
- Contravening the local governing committee's / trust board's policies or the code of conduct
- Deliberate concealment of any of the above

Where staff have concerns they should aim to report it internally first before using an external 'prescribed person or body'. Making a report to an external person may only be taken where the staff member thinks the Trust will cover it up, would treat them unfairly if they complained or have raised the matter before, but the concern was not dealt with.

It is important not to delay passing on any concerns.

Which concerns do not fall within the remit of the policy?

The whistleblowing policy is primarily concerned when the interests of other people or those of the school or trust are at risk. It only applies if you are raising a concern in public rather than your own individual interest.

If your concern is about your personal position in school or the way you as an individual have been treated, please raise it through the Grievance Procedure. A copy of this is available in school.

Our assurances to you:

Your safety:

The trust recognise that the decision to report a concern can be a difficult one to make and the trust are fully committed to the assurances given in this policy. If you raise a genuine concern under the Whistleblowing policy, you will not be at risk of losing your job or suffering any form of reprisal as a result.

The Trust board will not tolerate harassment, bullying or victimisation and will take action to protect you.

Confidentiality:

All disclosures will be treated in confidence and wherever possible, every effort will be made not to reveal your identity. However, you may need to come forward as a witness and you will be given every support at that time.

No code of confidentiality should prevent you from passing on any concerns that may impact on the safety and welfare of a child.

Anonymous Disclosures

You should put your name to your disclosure whenever possible. Disclosures made anonymously will still be considered at the discretion of the School or Trust. However, it is helpful to have your name in case further information is required.

In exercising its discretion, the School will take into account:

- the seriousness of the issues raised.
- the credibility of the disclosure.
- the likelihood of confirming what is alleged from attributable sources.

Untrue Disclosures

If you make a disclosure in good faith, but it is not confirmed by the investigation, no action will be taken against you. If however, your allegation is frivolous, malicious or for personal gain, you may be subject to disciplinary action.

What to do:

Procedures for making a disclosure:

As a first step, you should normally raise your concerns with your Headteacher. Staff based in the MAT office should raise concerns with the CEO. If you believe your Headteacher is involved, you should approach the Chief Executive of the trust or the relevant whistleblowing person on the MAT/Trust Board. This depends however, on the seriousness and sensitivity of the issues involved and who is suspected of the malpractice.

You may raise your concern either verbally or in writing. The earlier you express the concern, the easier it is to take action. You should provide:

- details of your concerns, including the nature, dates and location of any relevant incidents.
- reasons why you feel concerned about the situation.

Although you are not expected to prove beyond doubt the truth of an allegation you will need to demonstrate to the person contacted that there are reasonable grounds for your concern.

You may wish to consider discussing your concern with a colleague first and you may find it easier to raise the matter if there are two (or more) of you who have had the same experience or concerns. You may also wish to discuss your concerns with your trade union representative on the staff of the school.

- Complaints will be investigated by the Headteacher unless the complaint is against the head teacher or is in any way linked to the actions of the head teacher. In such cases the concern should be passed to the Chief Executive of the trust.
- Complaints against the Chair of Governors or Chief Executive should be passed to the MAT whistleblowing contact person, who will nominate an appropriate person to investigate.
- If there is evidence of criminal activity, then the police will be informed.

Investigating Procedure:

- The investigating person will gather as much detailed written information as possible.
- They should inform the member of staff against who the complaint has been made as soon as is practicably possible. The member of staff will be informed of their right to be accompanied by a trade union or other representative at any future interview or hearing under the provision of these procedures.
- If the concerns are linked to safeguarding then the LADO will be contacted for guidance and advice. They will advise if a referral needs to be made via MARU.
- The Head Teacher / relevant MAT whistleblowing person will fully investigate with the assistance of other relevant bodies as appropriate.
- Once a judgement has been reached on the validity of the concern/allegation a written report will detail the findings of the investigation and the judgement.
- If the complaint is shown to be justified they will invoke the disciplinary or other relevant procedures.
- If the LADO is involved then the procedures for managing allegations against staff will be followed.
- The complainant should be kept informed of the progress of the investigations, and if appropriate the final outcome.
- In any meetings that have a connection to the whistleblowing concern the complainant has the right to be accompanied by their trade union representative or a colleague (providing they are not involved in the issue and would not be called as a witness).

Action taken by the school / trust:

- In order to protect individuals and those accused of malpractice, initial enquiries will be made to decide whether an investigation is appropriate and, if so, what form it should take. The overriding principle the school / trust will have in mind is the public interest. Disclosure for which there are other specific procedures e.g. child protection or discrimination issues will normally be referred to for consideration under those procedures.
- Some concerns may be resolved by agreed action without the need for an investigation. If urgent action is required, this will be taken before any other procedures commence.
- Within 10 days of a concern being raised you will receive a response:

A) Acknowledging that the concern has been received

B) Telling you whether any initial enquiries have been made

- C) Indicating how the matter is going to be dealt with
 - D) Giving an estimate of how long it will take to provide a final response
 - E) Supplying with details of staff support mechanisms
 - F) Telling you why if there is going to be no further action taken
- The school will take steps to minimise any difficulties you may experience as a result of making a disclosure. For instance, if you are required to give evidence in criminal or disciplinary proceedings the school will arrange for you to receive advice about the procedure
 - You will need to be assured that the matter has been properly addressed. Therefore, subject to any legal constraints, you will be informed of the outcomes of any investigation. You would be expected to keep this information confidential.

How the matter can be taken further:

This policy is intended to provide you with a route within school / trust to pass on your concerns /make a disclosure of malpractice. The trust hope is that you will be satisfied with the action that is taken. If however you are not satisfied and believe that your information has not been dealt with appropriately you can contact one of the following.
